Sensei Dave is a foster youth alumni that “beat the odds” but, that wasn’t without help from some amazing Caring Adults in his life along with some inspiration and resilience.

“After my mom died when I was 12 I had no one, no family, so I bounced around foster homes, juvenile detention centers and group homes until I ended up homeless after I aged-out of the system.”

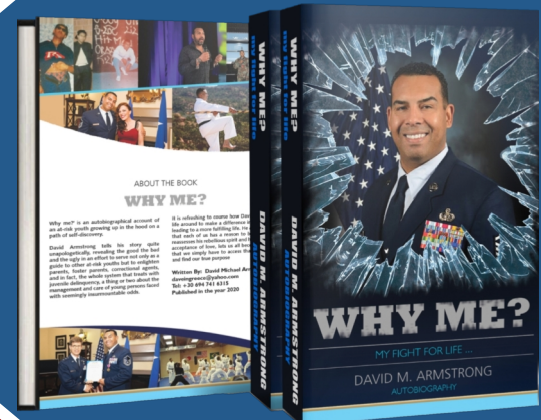

For our youth -- I inspire our youth and give them hope, they need to know that it’s not their fault that they ended up where they are but, they CERTAINLY can overcome the circumstances that they were thrown into.

For Caring Adults -- I train and inspire staff and volunteers to connect with the youth they serve in a more profound way. To make a HUGE tangible difference for the youth’s lives and their futures.

For non-profits -- I inspire your current and future donors to give and do more, to bring their friends and family into the organization as donors. I also, motivate current volunteers to bring friends and family into the organization as new volunteers.

WHAT OTHERS SAY:

“Your speech in Portugal brought me to tears! I’m so glad to have been part of the audience you truly motivated me to start volunteering in our local community ...despite the language barrier.”

~ US Air Force Member

“Mr. Armstrong, I would describe your speaking style as inspiring! I would say you provide a casual and comfortable environment that promotes interactive communication. In addition, you have a professional yet down to earth approach that makes you a prime candidate for working with and influencing youth.

~Program Director, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Colorado
